Healthmark Announces LTA Brushes Addition to Instrument Care Product Line

Fraser, MI, July 14, 2015 - Healthmark Industries has announced the addition of LTA Brushes to its ProSys™ Instrument Care line. These quality brushes are designed to limit micro-scratching on instruments that cause corrosion, they come with latex-free bristles and handles that are compatible with steam sterilization.

The LTA Brushes offer a range of diameter sizes and lengths to accompany numerous cleaning needs that focuses on the external and internal cleanliness of medical instruments. From routine to heavy-duty precision based decontamination, these cleaning brushes were crafted with two goals in mind: effective and precise cleaning.
